Librarian of the Year nominations are due March 12, 2021

Has a UCLA librarian had a major impact on your work? This is your chance to recognize their expertise. The Librarians Association of the University of California, Los Angeles (LAUC-LA) invites nominations for its 2021 Librarian of the Year Award. This award recognizes excellence in librarianship that furthers the teaching and research mission of UCLA and responds to the intellectual, informational, and cultural needs of the university community.
